Blue mold found in Kentucky

Bob Pierce, tobacco specialist with the University of Kentucky has reported that blue mold has been found in Lewis, Mason, Jackson and Clay counties in Eastern Kentucky. Anyone with tobacco set in mid-June should be watching very closely with current weather conditions. Anyone who is approaching topping time should go ahead and top the tobacco and spray it with MH-30. This should reduce the chances of blue mold once the growth patterns have slowed on the tobacco. If you suspect you have a problem, call the Harrison County Extension Office at 234-5510.

Chamber breakfast is Aug. 27

The Chamber of Commerce has really “scrambled” things up offering a membership breakfast this month instead of its usual luncheon. Hoping to enable more of our sole proprietors to attend the meetings before they open the shop is what urged the time change from noon to 8 a.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 27. Our speaker will be Garnett Furnish, the new executive director for Harrison County’s Economic Development. Complimentary continental breakfast and coffee will be available for those attending. Please call 234-5236 to reserve your spot.

Relay for Life Mum Sale

Harrison Memorial Hospital’s Relay for Life will sponsor a Mum Sale on Thursday, Aug. 28 from 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. The sale will be held outside the former OB exit. Ten colors to choose from. Cost is $12 each.

A WHEEL OF A WEEKEND

Cynthiana’s third Rod Run will put about 2,000 cars on display

By JOSH SHEPHERD, News Writer

An estimated 2,000 custom cars, trucks and motorcycles are expected to roll in for the third edition of the Cynthiana Rod Run this weekend. But visitors don’t have to be auto maniacs to be entertained. Thanks to the cooperation and support of numerous Cynthiana organizations and local businesses, there is an impressive array of activities and contests that will run throughout day. Some events require some pre-registration, but most will accept all comers right up to the starting gun. Ironically, the event that will kick off the Rod Run celebration on Saturday morning will be the one least powered by a combustion engine.

The 5K Hunger Run/Walk, sponsored by St. Edward Catholic Church, will begin at 9 a.m. at the Cynthiana-Harrison County Airport. Kayleigh Evans, who is organizing the event, said that registration for runners will begin at around 7 a.m. and the cost will be $25. Proceeds from the run will benefit the Harrison County Food Pantry. The event is also part of the year long celebration of 150th anniversary of Saint Edward Catholic Church, Evans said. See ROD RUN, page 3

Accident scene lollygagger busted attempting to walk away

By JOSH SHEPHERD, News Writer

A Georgetown man, claiming to be a bystander at a non-injury accident on Ky. 36 west Monday morning, walked away from the scene a little too quickly when Harrison County sheriff’s deputies arrived. A background check revealed the man had three outstanding warrants in Scott County and was arrested at the scene. According to a report from the Harrison County Sheriff’s Office, Daniel Mullannix, 42, of Stone Avenue in Georgetown, was seen standing at the scene of a single vehicle non-injury accident. As cruisers drew closer to the wreck, deputy Dean Hutchison reported that Mullannix walked quickly away in an apparent attempt to avoid an encounter with law enforcement. Hutchison followed the suspect around the back of a private home and requested identification. Mullannix explained that he had been walking along the highway when he saw the accident occur.

In the meantime, deputy Robert Peak was taking down the accident report from Jessica Smith of Georgetown. According to the accident report, she lost control of her vehicle on a wet road and ended up crashing into an embankment. She told officers that she was alone in her car, the report said. Presenting suspicious behavior, Hutchison requested a background check on Mullannix. Dispatch returned with information that three arrest warrants had been issued in Scott County against Mullannix. They included a warrant for an unpaid fine of $500 after having been found guilty of theft by unlawful taking. He was also sought on a charge of fraudulent use of a credit card over $500 and failure to pay child support. Mullannix was subsequently taken into custody, served the warrants and was later transported to the Bourbon County Detention Center on all charges.

Jenkins named Democrat general manager

Other staff members promoted in wake of Jacobs’ retirement

By BECKY BARNES, Editor

Changes are happening at The Cynthiana Democrat. With the impending retirement of publisher George Jacobs on Sept. 5, three people are being promoted from within the operation to assume some of his responsibilities. Landmark regional manager Jeff Moore named Patricia Jenkins advertising manager/general manager of The Cynthiana Democrat/Harrison Shopper. Josh Guthrie has been named general manager of the Cynthiana Publishing Plant and Melinda Moss will be the new production coordinator. Moore, who is based in Carrollton, will serve as regional manager to the Cynthiana Democrat and printing plant. Jenkins is a native of Cynthiana. She graduated from Harrison County High School in 1982 and has served as ad manager for The Cynthiana Democrat and Harrison Shopper since 2000. “In this role, Trish has demonstrated leadership in sales, development of successful promotions and a keen sense of customer service that she will bring to her new duties,” Moore said upon making the announcement of the promotions. Before coming to The Cynthiana Democrat, Jenkins worked with promotional products at Ad Color in Lexington, and as a direct marketing specialist with American Custom Safety, a subsidiary of E.D. Bullard Co. in See CHANGES, page 3

Cynthiana.
Jenkins said she looks forward to the challenges of her new position. “We all work well together here,” she said. “It’s a team effort that George has fostered over the last 38 years.” She said she doesn’t foresee changes in the operation. “Our staff is very professional and each person knows his or her job well. We look forward to continuing our commitment to Cynthiana and Harrison County,” she said.

Jenkins attended Maysville Community College, Kentucky Tech and the University of Kentucky. She is a past president of the Cynthiana Lions Club and a member of Connorsville Christian Church, where her husband Dwayne serves as an elder. The Jenkinse have two sons, Weston and Josh. Guthrie will assume his new duties along with the others on Sept. 5, which is Jacobs’ final day at the helm of the Cynthiana operation. Guthrie is a graduate of Nicholas County High School and native of Carlisle. His first responsibilities at the Cynthiana operation were as a graphic artist and customer service representative for Kentucky Homes Magazine. Since he began with the company in 2004, he has served in other capacities as well. He has been a web printing specialist, business development manager and technology manager for Cynthiana Publishing and other Landmark publications. “We are fortunate to have Josh’s experience and enthusiasm, his commitment to delighting customers and getting results at the Cynthiana plant,” Moore said. Guthrie has also been instrumental in the installation and operation of new technology. He has a bachelor’s degree in industrial education personnel for the plant. She began her tenure in the mailing and inserting department and later moved into the camera department. Many things have changed in the business since Moss began working in the plant. She said she has witnessed the transition from the days when everything was done by hand to today where computers are used in nearly every aspect of the printing operation. Moss is a Cynthiana resident. She has one daughter, Kristie Moss, and twin granddaughters, Kimmie and Kiah Moss, who are seniors at Harrison County High School, and Keenen Hill, 7, who is in second grade at Eastside Elementary. Along with the other changes, Moore has been assigned as regional manager, another position held by Jacobs. Moore, who is publisher of The News Democrat in Carrollton and The Trimble Banner in Bedford, as well as serving as regional manager for The News-Herald in Owenton, will add The Cynthiana Democrat and Grant County News to his regional assignment. Moore has been with The Cynthiana Democrat’s parent company, Landmark Community Newspapers, since 2003. He holds an English degree with an emphasis on communications from the University of Virginia’s College at Wise. His experience includes a reporter’s position at The Coalfield Progress in Norton, Va., editor and general manager of The Post in Big Stone Gap, Va., where he later became publisher of that operation, which also included a printing plant. Moore and his wife Joan live in Carrollton. They have two sons, Eric and Ryan, and a 22-month-old grandson, Owen.

technology with an emphasis on graphic arts. He is also a graduate of De La Salle University School of Medicine in the Philippines. Guthrie is a former freelance designer where he worked with allied health businesses in Lexington. He and his wife Nita have two sons, Oliver, 8, and Isaiah, 5. The family lives in Carlisle and has a working cattle/chicken/horse farm. He is also very active in youth activities in his community. He is a Cub Scout pack master, soccer coach and youth soccer league board member. He is also active in the Carlisle Presbyterian Church. Moss has been at the plant since 1978. “She has a wealth of experience from across the printing operation that she brings to her commitment to serve our customers and keep things flowing smoothly in the plant,” Moore said. Her new role as production coordinator will also begin on Sept. 5. She will be responsible for setting the production schedule, managing pre-press operations as well as

Arm Wrestling Competition

One of the popular special events at the Rod Run is the arm wrestling competitions which begin at noon on Saturday. Stage 3, at the intersection of Pike and Walnut streets, has become the traditional home for this increasingly popular event. Ricky King will organize the non-sanctioned competition. Registration and weigh-ins for competitors will start at noon, King said. An entry fee of just $5 will get people a spot. There will be three weight classes for those wanting to compete in the right-handed event. King also plans for a left-handed competition and a women’s competition, but he said he doesn’t anticipate having weight class divisions for them. “I’ll have to see who signs up to participate. There are usually not many left-handed competitors to justify classes. There were about 21 people in arm wrestling last year,” King said.

Sound-Off Competition

The Sound Off loud-est car stereo competition, sponsored by Auto Systems on Bridge Street, will return for another year. It begins at 1 p.m. and will be held under a tent parallel with Bridge Street. Tony Gasser, who organizes the event, said that he is always impressed by the sound systems that are entered into the competition. He gets a sense of pride when he sees a sound system that his business installed. “They come from all over,” Gasser said. Those who participate in the event may have to exercise a little patience this year. To accommodate the crowd and promote safety, Cynthiana will be closing Main Street from Bridge to Mill through downtown. That means the bulk of through-traffic will be routed up Bridge Street to Church Street all afternoon, he said. “If there are cars registered for the contest, we’ll work through the traffic jams so that they can compete,” Gasser said. An entry fee of $10 is required and there will be two classes.

Pizza Eating Competition

One of the most anticipated events of the Rod Run, the Pizza Eating Competition, will return at 2 p.m. courtesy of Snappy Tomato Pizza. Like last year, there will be a contest for children and a contest for adults. Participants will be selected by a random drawing about 20 minutes before the contest is scheduled to begin. To get in the drawing, people can drop their name into a basket at Snappy Tomato throughout the morning and early afternoon. When names are drawn, participants are contacted and the contest will get started at 2 p.m.

Ms/Miss Rod Run, JoJo Gunn and other events

At 4 p.m., a Poodle Skirt competition and a Best Tattoo Competition will be held on the Main stage around the courthouse. The last two events of the day will be the Ms/Miss Rod Run Pageant onstage at Rohs Opera House and music on the Main stage featuring Cynthiana’s own JoJo Gunn. There will be a Kid’s Zone with Inflatables and games in the Presbyterian Church parking lot. Live music will be provided throughout the day by The Paw Paw Pickers, the Battlegrove Trio, Sidewinder and the Eric Cummins Band at Stage #2. Plenty of food and drinks will round out the event. Volunteers are welcome to help guide visitors and help with clean-up at 9 p.m. when the Rod Run comes to an end for another year.

The "MOVING-MY-KID-INTO-COLLEGE" blues

I did not anticipate how difficult it would be to move my hostdaughter into her University of Kentucky dorm room last Saturday morning.

This has been a very event-filled summer for Pam and I as hosts of high school exchange students for the past five years.

For reasons good and, in one case, tragic, this summer, four of our five hostdaughters have returned to their Kentucky home for a period of time.

Because Pam and I have no children of our own, we have a tendency to form strong bonds with these young women and have worked to extend our relationships beyond the exchange year.

Our efforts, apparently, have paid off. Iris, our first hostdaughter, has spent the entire summer with us. She is doing a work internship until the end of September.

Lea, our youngest from Switzerland, completed her school year at Nicholas County and returned home.

She has vowed to return, and I believe her. Lotta came back for a week to wish a dear friend rest.

But with the beginning of the new school year, Pam and I are taking a break from hosting a high school student.

That does not mean a quiet household, though. Maria, our hostdaughter from Norway, enjoyed her time in Kentucky so much that she has enrolled as a freshman at UK.

If I examined this closely, I think this is a thing Pam and I hoped would happen with one of our hostdaughters eventually. However, on even closer inspection, my wife and I may have wanted this to happen for different reasons.

At least that is the impression I have when I reflect on my unanticipated reaction when we were packing the car Saturday morning to take Maria to her dorm.

It began when Iris and I were figuring out the best way to pack Maria's dorm stuff in the back of my Ford Escape. Stacking cardboard boxes on top of each other, I found myself recalling how I managed to fit five wooden crates of records, a stereo system and a whole dorm room's worth of other junk into the back of my Nissan Sentra.

"The hard part was the lesson I had to learn..."

I even bragged to no one in particular about how there was only room for myself in the driver's seat when I finished.

Arriving on campus, we followed the signs guiding us to Maria's dorm, unloaded her belongings to a long table, then moved everything in. My first thought upon entering the room was how I would decorate ...

No, wait, that's not accurate. My first thought was that of a middle-aged curmudgeon thinking about how easy kids have it today, what with a room already equipped with a kitchen sink, microwave oven, stainless steel mini-fridge with attached freezer, and its own full bathroom. And a private bedroom with a mattress that wasn't a lumpy back hazard!

But my impulse afterward was to start suggesting the best way to lay out the room - the way I would do it. A tapestry across the ceiling, some cool posters, maybe a futon...

And, if she was smart, what she should do next is ... at which point I have to give myself credit.

I suppressed that impulse.

In the end, I did the smart thing. I got the heck on back home.

It still didn't stop me wondering what she was doing, who she was meeting, wishing I could be there to warn her against all the mistakes she'll make, and being jealous, too. How I'd love to experience the fear and uncertainty that comes with being young and on your own for the first time.

(Okay, I just wish I was young...)

These were my feelings for a young lady I have only known for two or three years. I can only imagine how parents moving their child ... sorry, kids, I can't think of a better term ... into a college dorm or apartment for the first time.

Like I said, I didn't imagine how difficult it would be to keep my mouth shut and let this experience be hers — not mine.

How I would love to be her college guide so that she makes the most of her years at the University. But there is a point where I have to let her make her own mistakes ...

Man.

That's going to be hard.

Drug overdose deaths are rising in Kentucky

Editor's note: Information provided by Agency for Substance Abuse (ASAP).

Deaths from drug overdose have been rising steadily over the past two decades and have become the leading cause of injury death in the United States. Every day in the United States, 113 people die as a result of drug overdose, another 6,748 are treated in emergency departments for the misuse or abuse of drugs and nearly nine out of 10 poisoning deaths are caused by drugs. In 2011, 80 percent of drug overdose deaths in the United States were unintentional while 12 percent were suicidal intent (Center for Disease Control and Prevention).

The problem in Kentucky: A new report from the Kentucky Injury Prevention and Research Center reveals the occurrence of drug overdoses in the Bluegrass state. The report, "Drug Overdose Deaths, Hospitalizations, and Emergency Department Visits in Kentucky, 2000-2012", examines the presence of overdose and mortality among Kentucky residents and documents the enormous toll drug overdose has on the Commonwealth's population. The report includes points of encouragement and concern. The good news is that, overall, overdose deaths and emergency department visits leveled off from 2011 to 2012, and the contribution of prescription opioids (painkillers) and benzodiazepines (anti-anxiety medication) to drug overdoses decreased. In 2012, there were 6,496 overdose emergency department visits in Kentucky and 1,031 overdose deaths. Opioids remained the primary cause of overdose deaths in the state. Casey, Carroll, Nicholas, Powell, and Johnson Counties had the highest overdose emergency department visits in the time period of 2008 to 2012.

While the contribution of prescription opioids and benzodiazepines to drug overdoses decreased from 2011 to 2012, there was a massive increase in heroin involvement in overdose deaths, hospitalizations, and emergency department visits over the same period. Heroin contributed to:

- 129 Kentucky resident drug overdose deaths in 2012.
- A 207 percent increase from the 42 heroin-involved deaths recorded in 2011.
- And a 174 percent increase for hospitalizations and a 197 percent increase for ED visits related to heroin.

However, the spike in drug abuse and overdoses involving heroin is not unique to Kentucky.

According to the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration, the number of heroin users increased by 80 percent from 2007 to 2012.

How to Help: Drug overdose is a serious, life-threatening event. Take appropriate caution when dealing with drug overdose. Each person responds differently, and reactions are hard to predict. Many people who are directed to go to the emergency department may not develop any physical signs of poisoning, others will become quite ill. If you suspect a person is experiencing overdose, call 911 immediately, do not leave the person unattended and be sure to roll them on their sides to avoid choking on vomit and to open their airways. Some signs and symptoms to look for include: increase or decreased pulse rate, breathing, blood pressure, sleepiness, confusion, unable to be awakened, cool or clammy skin and chest pain. Breathing may get rapid, slow, deep, or shallow. Nausea, vomiting, and diarrhea are also possible.

You can also prevent prescription drug overdose by disposing of any prescribed medications that are no longer needed or are outdated. Prescription drop boxes are located at the local police department.

International Drug Overdose Awareness day is Aug. 31. To post a tribute to a loved one who was lost to drug overdose visit www.overdoseday.com and tell your story. Help spread the word to further prevent drug overdose!

Ptl. Nathan Linville

Patrolman honored for traffic safety efforts in Cynthiana

By BECKY BARNES, Editor

Three-year Cynthiana Police officer Nathan Linville was honored for his efforts in reducing highway hazards.

"I wasn't expecting this," said a humbled Linville. "I didn't feel like I had written that many seat belt citations. That just shows how many people are riding without their seat belts."

Linville issued 65 citations for seat belt violations during the Click It or Ticket campaign in 2013. Those tickets earned him the Occupant Protection Enforcement award.

He said 65 citations during the traffic safety campaign is the highest number written in Cynthiana to date.

The Kentucky Office of Highway Safety made the presentation at a luncheon in Lexington on Aug. 7 where 137 law enforcement officers were recognized.

Linville was accompanied to the luncheon by Cynthiana Assistant Chief Bill Denton.

After serving a year's hiatus, David Sheely will once again haunt downtown Cynthiana early next month.

The Rohs Theater Company is reviving its annual "Dinner with David Sheely" dinner theater production at the old jail during the first weekend in September.

The popular show took last year off to generate some new enthusiasm for its return in 2014, said James Smith, producing director for the theater company.

"It's a popular show, but it is good sometimes to take a break from it," Smith said.

The strategy appears to have worked. There is already a lot of excitement generated for this season's edition of the show, Smith said.

Even though the show went on hiatus, over 95 percent of "David Sheely's" original cast is returning to reprise their roles in one of Harrison County's most famous and enduring folk tales.

The play is unique. It is an original Rohs Opera House production taken, in part, from the accounts recorded by Harrison County historians Lucinda Boyd and Judge Mac Swinford. While the story remains true to the record, the play takes "modest dramatic license" with specific scenes that the actors perform, Smith said.

"We incorporate the legends and tales that have been passed down for generations since the tragedy."

James Smith (David Sheely), Megan Ritchie (Nancy Sheely) will be reprising their roles in the Rohs Theater Company's dinner theater production of "Dinner with David Sheely" coming the first weekend of September.

Furthermore, "Dinner with David Sheely" is always a work in progress, Smith said. The veteran cast writes and tells their section of the tale, so it is rarely the same play twice, he added.

The dinner, catered by Layne Tussey of The Vault, will be served family style at the table. There will be a large campfire in the middle of the performance space, so that the entire experience will be in the oral tradition of the time period, Smith said.

Cynthiana trio injured in fatal accident in Scott County

By JOSH SHEPHERD, News Writer

A Cynthiana woman and two other riders were survivors of a serious auto accident on Saturday, Aug. 9 that claimed the life of a Georgetown man.

Lt. Josh Hutchison of the Scott County Sheriff's Department responded to the injury accident estimated to have occurred at about 1:38 p.m.

According to his report, Brandon Blake, 24, of Georgetown, driving a 2005 Toyota Camry, collided head-on with a 2012 Chevy Tahoe operated by Rebecca Jenkins.

Scott County Coroner John Goble pronounced Blake dead at the scene.

Jenkins and the other two occupants of her car were transported by Georgetown-Scott County Emergency Medical Services to the University of Kentucky Medical Center to be treated for injuries sustained in the accident.

Though the accident is under investigation, Hutchison said that no alcohol or excessive speeding was involved. No charges are expected in the tragedy, he said.

Kentuckyana Jones brings thumbs-up tour to Cynthiana

By JOSH SHEPHERD, News Writer

At Battlegrove Cemetery Thursday morning people may have witnessed an unusual sight — a camera crew at the military memorial with their lenses fixed on Bob Owen and a smiling, bearded stranger gathering a soil sample from beneath a veteran's plaque.

Or, on Thursday afternoon, people might have seen the same camera crew entering the Maysville Community and Technical College, Licking Valley Campus' Art Gallery following the bearded stranger with one arm draped around the shoulder of local artist Herby Moore.

People didn't have to look far to find out the name of the stranger. It was written in florid script on three large vans out in the parking lot.

Kentuckyana Jones, The "Extreme" Treasure Hunter.

Jones, a business entrepreneur and trader in antiques, treasures, and rare collectibles, was a featured guest star on an episode of "Barry'd Treasure," a reality show on the A&E channel starring celebrity antique dealer Barry Weiss.

The episode, "Kentuckyana Jones and the Emperor's Vessel" aired in March 2014.

But it wasn't for another person's television show that brought Jones to Cynthiana last Thursday.

The Bowling Green native was in town shooting footage for a potential television series of his own.

Jones said that a part of the show would chronicle his adventures searching for valuable artifacts. The objects that he sought in Cynthiana, however, were not hidden or even remotely hard to find. The sample of Herby Moore's paintings, which Jones wanted, were all in plain sight in Moore's space at the LVC Art Gallery.

Unlike other places he plans to visit, Jones did not choose Cynthiana at random. He has a very special connection to Moore and, therefore, to this community.

"I bought Herby's wax museum in Cave City," Jones said.

Jones has been friends with Moore since the sale of the wax museum. Growing up in Bowling Green, Jones was very familiar with the tourist attraction in Cave City. But he never thought anything else about it until one day when he saw that the building was for sale. It was a spontaneous decision to make an offer for it, Jones said.

"It may not be the way

Bob Owen and Kentuckyana Jones finish their meeting to honor the late Brig. Gen. Jack Henry Owen with Jones' traditional thumbs up picture that he takes with his special guests. Jones is traveling the country in support of the Patriot Soil Project. See details in this story and at patriotsoil.org.

most people do business, but I like to fly by the seat of my pants sometimes. I like taking risks. America was built on the shoulders of entrepreneurs who've done the same thing," Jones said.

Moore's paintings will feature prominently in Jones' long-term plans to transform the wax museum into a new area tourist attraction. He intends to create a museum dedicated to America's veterans, a subject that Jones is as passionate about as he is negotiating a good price for an artifact.

Honoring veterans will also be a critical part of the show that Jones and his film crew are currently shooting.

"We're dedicating a large chunk of our show's time talking with the families of veterans who have already gone on. At the end of every show, we will have a ceremony where we go to the veteran's gravesite with a family member and gather a soil sample," Jones said.

Jones paid a visit to local Cynthiana resident Bob Owen on Thursday morning to talk about Brig. Gen. Jack Henry Owen, Bob's uncle, who passed away about a year and a half ago.

During his military career, Gen. Owen flew a B-17 bomber in the European theater of World War II and survived two years as a prisoner of war, Bob Owen said.

There was no particular reason that Gen. Owen was selected over any other veteran, Jones said. "Herby is a friend of Bob's and suggested he be a good subject."

Jones has been to seven other states so far and done the same thing.

The soil sample taken from Battlegrove Cemetery will be stored in a vault for the time being. It is Jones' ambition to get soil samples from all 50 states.

When he has accomplished that goal, he plans to donate those samples to the Patriot Soil Project, a national effort to honor veterans which Jones ardently supports.

The Patriot Soil Project is accepting donations of soil samples from the graves of veterans across the nation.

When completed, the project's organizers will combine the soil from the gravesites of fallen veterans from all 50 states and used to plant a living memorial, a "Patriot Tree," on the White House lawn, Jones said.

Other Patriot Trees will be planted on the grounds of the governors' mansions throughout the nation.

For those interested in donating funds or soil samples to this effort, visit the website Patriotsoil.org for more information.

If all goes well, Jones has one more idea in mind:

He wants to plant a "Patriot Tree" on the grounds of the veterans' museum in Cave City when renovation work is complete.

In the meantime, though, Jones will be traveling and meeting with folks, saving the memories on film and in the characteristic "thumbs-up" pictures he is taking with his guests and friends.

Two airlifted from accident scene on U.S. 62 E Sunday

By JOSH SHEPHERD, News Writer

A northern Kentucky man and woman were airlifted to UK Medical Center Sunday afternoon after suffering serious injuries when their motorcycle collided with the side of a Federal Express delivery van on U. S. 62.

Ronald Steffen of Highland Heights was riding his Harley Davidson motorcycle east on U.S. 62 with Julie Estes of Covington as his passenger.

According to a report from Harrison County Deputy Sheriff Nathan Gasser, the two were about six miles east of Cynthiana. Steffen apparently lost control of the motorcycle in a curve and skidded into the westbound lane where a FedEx van, driven by Kenneth Rogers of Lexington, was traveling in the opposite direction.

Rogers swerved away from the oncoming motorcycle, but could not prevent the couple from crashing into the van head-on. The riders were thrown from their seat and the motorcycle was thrown into a roadside ditch.

The FedEx van went off the highway and down an embankment, coming to rest in front of a gravel driveway.

The injured couple were flown to the University of Kentucky Medical Center for treatment of their injuries. As of Tuesday morning, Estes had been released from the hospital. Steffen was still a patient.

The FedEx truck, swerving to avoid contact with the out-of-control Harley Davidson, went off the road and came to rest over an embankment.

Purslane turns out to be a tasty weed

I have long understood that purslane could be used in salads or soups but never made much of an effort to harvest it until a few years ago.

So, when high summer approaches I am now on the hunt for purslane, considered a noxious weed by most.

I am not the only one who regards purslane with some culinary virtue. A fellow Farm Market farmer at the Belknap Farmers' Market gave me a taste of his homemade salsa commenting "It is the best way to use purslane." I was so excited to hear someone else get excited about this so-called weed.

My friend and author Nancy Gift describes purslane

Jeneen Wiche

Columnist
www.
com

(Portulacca oleracea) as a "flat-growing plant with succulent, thick leaves, usually roughly an inch long and a thick stem. It grows best in dry places (sand, gravel) but also grows in gardens. Purslane leaves are deep green, slightly shiny, with small whitish hairs underneath, and the leaf edges and stems often have a purplish or reddish cast."

It has a jade-like appearance for a weed.

In Nancy's book, Good Weed, Bad Weed, she definitely represents the good side of the piquant-tasting green. Consider giving it a try; and watch for her book if you are interested in learning more about the virtues of all living things.

I found a few recipes that complement the flavor of purslane, which I can best describe as sour-piquant. Any variation on the theme will work so don't bother sticking to the recipes exactly. You can also just add a few of its leaves to any leafy green salad.

Everyone's favorite is the purslane potato salad: boil 3 or 4 medium potatoes (about 10 minutes) and let cool in a large shallow bowl, cut into desired pieces.

Combine ½ cup of olive oil, 3 tablespoons of red wine vinegar and a pinch of salt for your dressing.

On top of the potatoes layer rough cut tomatoes, cucumbers, onion and pepper; purslane, and chopped mint (more or less as you desire of anything).

Drizzle the dressing, salt and pepper to taste and toss gently.

One time I also added a few dollops of ricotta cheese which gave the salad a slight creamy texture. You could use yogurt or sour cream, too.

One of the ways I sell this salad on my guests is bragging on the nutrient values of purslane; it is high in omega-3 fatty acids, vitamin C, beta carotene, magnesium and potassium; so, therefore good for blood pressure and cholesterol.

Why are we not eating more of this?

The next recipe was a simple tomato, cucumber, purslane, basil and yogurt salad.

Think about marinated cucumbers with a yogurt base instead of vinegar and a few more ingredients. Season it as you wish.

Purslane is an annual and will be knocked back by the first frost so before this happens I will gather what I can find and make a fall gumbo.

When purslane is cooked in a broth it actually acts as a thickening agent (similar to okra).

This recipe came via Esther Heizer in Clarksville, Indiana, to my father many years ago.

Saute ½ cup chopped onion in about a tablespoon of butter; blend in about a tablespoon flour; add 1 cup of chopped tomatoes, 2 cups (or more) stock, about ½ pound cubed fish or chicken (or keep it vegetarian and add more vegetables), 2 cups purslane and a handful of chopped fresh basil. Let it all simmer until meat and or vegetables are tender.

I have also heard that purslane is a good flavor complement to pork and lamb so this will be on the fall menu, as well. Anyone have any recipe ideas there?

"Halligan the Wonder Dog" to benefit Helping Hounds Find Homes, Inc.

A Harrison County author Jeanine Grant Lister's latest book "Halligan the Wonder Dog: The Story of a Pit Bull and the Organization that Saved Her" is now available on Amazon and Kindle. Beginning Aug. 23 the book will also be available at 122 E. Pike St., in the law and CPA offices of Kelli Mulberry. Half the profits from the sale of the book will benefit Cynthiana charity Helping Hounds Find Homes, Inc. (HHFH), a 501(c)3 public charity.

The author will sign books from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Mulberry's office on Pike Street during the Cynthiana Rod Run.

The book tells the story of how Lister came to foster a pit bull mix dog - named Halligan by the author's youngest daughter, Ciara

- and the madcap adventures that the author and her family experienced in the year that Halligan has lived with them; beyond that, though, the book relates the story, mission and adventures that family members have had as volunteers for Helping Hounds Find Homes, Inc.

HHFH was founded in 2011 to help save dogs from being euthanized at the Flora Shropshire Animal Shelter here in Harrison County. The book tells the story of the public charity and what it does to save dogs by transporting them to Chicago, Ill., where animal rescue groups there give the transported dogs good and loving homes.

The paperback version of Halligan the Wonder Dog sells for $18 on Amazon and locally. The Kindle edition is $3.99.

Church

“Encouragement from a Little Friend”

Dr. Larry W. Bishop, Guest Columnist
Cynthiana Christian Church

The gifts of life come to us from persons of all ages. Jesus must have realized this when he suggested that the children around would often lead us.

I recently shared with my church family an incident in my life that verified this truth. I was getting ready to play our over 40 soccer game at Masterson Station in Lexington, when I began to count up the eligible players.

I felt a sense of panic when I realized I was the 11th body there that day.

Due to obvious reasons, I don't play much soccer anymore, but I do show up, enjoy my friends, and appreciate the competitive contest.

I unzipped my bag, pulled out the shin guards and laced up the old soccer boots to give it a try. Thank goodness our best player Anthony showed up minutes later with his son, Keagan, and his lovely daughter.

These two precious children have been accompanying their parents at the games for years. Therefore Keagan and I have spent a great deal of time together on the sidelines.

When I came off the field to be replaced by his dad, Keagan ran to me and gave me a big hug with this evaluation, "Mr. Larry, when I drove up in my dad's car I got so excited to see that they finally let you play."

I thanked my little friend for his approval and turned around wearing a large smile.

As Jesus said, "Out of the mouths of babes."

I believe it raises a very serious question. Do others around us find our words to be those of encouragement or discouragement?

How do people feel when they have been in our presence? Do they feel as though they have been affirmed?

The Bible suggests to us that there is no greater ministry that is ours than that of being "encouragers."

In II Thessalonians 2:16 we read, "Wherefore comfort yourselves together, and edify one another, even as also ye do."

Philemon 1:7 shares with us this advice, "Your love has given me great joy and encouragement, because you, brother, have refreshed the hearts of the saints."

The German playwright, poet, and novelist Johann Wolfgang von Goethe reminds us, "Correction does much, but encouragement does more."

One of the most outstanding works ever produced about this subject of self-esteem is entitled Peoplemaking by Virginia Satir. She reminds us of some truths that are so insightful for our day by day living. She reminds us that we need four hugs a day for survival, eight hugs a day for maintenance, and 12 hugs a day for growth.

We are appreciative to those who follow the advice of the master and teacher, Jesus Christ.

When we love one another, when we bear the burden of one another, when we go the extra mile, and when we employ the words of encouragement, people around us benefit.

Satir highlights, "Feelings of worth can flourish only in an atmosphere where individual differences are appreciated, mistakes are tolerated, communication is open, and rules are flexible – the kind of atmosphere that is found in a nurturing family. The goal in life is to be as fully human as we possibly can be. . . when we are in touch with our person power, we are in touch with our Divinity."

I am very appreciative to my little friend Keagan. Through his evaluation, I had a good day and a fulfilling week. Your words and actions can do the same. Spend some time thinking about those people who have always encouraged you.

Maybe seek them out and let them know of your appreciation for their efforts.

Look around for those who might be in need of what you and I can offer.

Do as Robin Williams suggested in one of his classics, Dead Poets Society, "Carpe Diem," seize the day, and be that encourager that is needed by so many.

Every church needs a red door

One day last week I heard some people on a podcast talking about celebrities' lifestyle Websites, like Gwyneth Paltrow's "Goop."

Not being interested in what celebrities think I should buy/eat/wear/read, mostly all I heard was a bunch of blah blah blah — until someone said that in the 1990s Cher had a lifestyle catalog.

Not that I care about Cher's catalog, but its name caught my attention: "Sanctuary." For the rest of the week I thought about that word and its meaning.

Years ago when a local Episcopal church built its new sanctuary, the bishop gave me a tour and pointed out the red doors. He said traditionally and historically, many churches had red front doors.

One reason is that red is symbolic of the blood of Jesus, our entry into salvation. Another reason, he said, is that historically red church doors were a sign to people fleeing persecution or seeking political asylum that they could find a safe place there. As long as they stayed behind church doors they couldn't be touched.

The red door was a sign of sanctuary, of safety and refuge.

It's said that during the Wars of the Roses (not to be confused with the "War of the Roses" movie with Michael Douglas and Kathleen Turner, but the civil wars in medieval England) soldiers who were losing the battle would rush to the nearest church to hide out. Even enemies wouldn't violate the red door; no one was allowed to harm or capture anyone inside a church.

Ever since the bishop told me about red church doors, every time I see a church with one I think of "sanctuary" and of being safe.

Not all churches have red doors, but most churches have a sanctuary, whether it's grand with high ceilings and rich wooden pews or a multi-purpose room with basketball hoops at either end. A church sanctuary is its worship space where the congregation meets with God.

Most churches have a sanctuary, but are they true sanctuaries where people can find a safe place?

Recently, my pastor read us the welcome message from another church:

"We extend a special welcome to those who are single, married, divorced, filthy rich, dirt poor, yo no habla Ingles. We extend a special welcome to those who are crying new-borns, skinny as a rail or could afford to lose a few pounds.

We welcome you if you can sing like Andrea Bocelli or like our pastor who can't carry a note in a bucket. You're welcome here if you're "just browsing," just woke up or just got out of jail.... We extend a special welcome to those who are over 60 but not grown up yet, and to teenagers who are growing up too fast.

"We welcome soccer moms, NASCAR dads, starving artists, tree-huggers, latte-sippers, vegetarians, junk-food eaters. We welcome those who are in recovery or still addicted. We welcome you if you're having problems or you're down in the dumps or if you don't like "organized religion," we've been there too.

"If you blew all your offering money at the dog track, you're welcome here....We welcome those who are inked, pierced or both. We offer a special welcome to those who could use a prayer right now, had religion shoved down your throat as a kid or got lost in traffic and wound up here by mistake. We welcome tourists, seekers and doubters, bleeding hearts — and you!"

That's a red door church. My church is a red door church.

Campbell Co. edges Breds 3-2 Tuesday

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

The Harrison County Thorobreds opened the soccer season in Claryville Tuesday night as they visited the Campbell County Camels.

After a slow start led to extra defensive pressure early, senior Logan Wiley lit a fire under his teammates with extra hustle and determination that led to the Breds first goal and a 1-nil lead.

The Camels came back about five minutes later for a goal of good fortune. Harrison County keeper Chris Ortiz blocked a rocket of a shot but the ball fell at the feet of an unmarked Camel who booted it into the net.

This was all of the first-half scoring as the two squads played a physical defensive battle for the remainder of the opening session.

The second half was more of the same as the ball went from end to end with each team having good possessions spoiled by good defense.

Campbell County scored the next goal on a penalty kick. Andrew Norfleet brushed a Camel player and he flopped, drawing the penalty kick for the home squad. They made the kick to take a 2-1 lead.

Campbell County made the decisive goal with about 10 minutes to play. A Camel forward made a nice play around the defense and kicked the ball off of the back post for the score and a 3-1 Camels' lead.

The Campbell County keeper continued to make good plays in goal to fend off the Harrison County offense as the Breds made attempt after an attempt on goal.

Finally, with two minutes left, Wiley took the ball down the sideline and found Gus Garrison open with a pass. The junior placed the ball into the net for the final 3-2 score.

"We got started a little too late," said Harrison County Coach Nick Hill. "We have to work on being prepared when we step off of the bus to play hard the whole match."

The Thorobreds travel to Bourbon County on Thursday to play what promises to be a rough-and-tumble affair against the Colonels.

This will be the season opener for the Bourbon County squad.

The Thorobreds open the home season on Tuesday with a date in the Athletic Complex with George Rogers Clark.

George Rogers Clark will come onto the Hilltop with a 0-1 record as they lost Tuesday 5-nil to Scott County.

Thorobreds run past Wildcats in Friday scrimmage

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

The Harrison County Thorobreds started slowly Friday at Pendleton County. They trailed at the half 7-0 before running over the home squad for three scores in the first six minutes of the third quarter. They ended with a 20-7 scrimmage win.

The game, which was a defensive struggle early, started 30 minutes late as Harrison County was notified of a later start when they arrived on site to play at 7 p.m.

Pendleton County picked up a first down on the first drive, but was forced to punt on the next series.

Punts were actually simulated as the ball was kicked with no run back. The Thorobreds also made one first down but were forced to punt.

The first quarter saw little offensive progress with neither team able to mount a serious threat.

Midway through the second period, Pendleton County connected on a pass down the right side of the field which carried the ball inside the Harrison County 10 yard line.

A couple of plays later, the Wildcat quarterback ran the ball up the middle for the game's first score. Following the point after, the score was 7-0 in favor of Pendleton County.

Harrison County took the kick off, which was also not live, and drove the ball down the field only to run out of time before the half expired with the Breds in a hole 7-0.

After some inspired words at the halftime intermission, the Thorobreds were a different team to start the third session.

The visiting squad took the ball and drove right down the field with juniors Christian Sinckler and Kellon Newby leading the charge.

Newby carried the ball into the end zone from one yard out for the first score. Sinckler added the two-point conversion for an 8-7 Thorobreds advantage.

The Wildcats began the next series trying an air attack but their first pass was intercepted by Greg Rife. The hard-nosed senior ran the ball back to the Pendleton County 35 yard line.

Two plays later, sophomore quarterback Malcolm Walker hit a wide open Colin Coy and the junior took the pigskin 20 yards for the second Harrison County score.

The Thorobreds again went for two and, though it appeared Newby broke the goal line plane with the ball, it was ruled not good. The score remained 14-6 in favor of the Breds.

Pendleton County gave up the ball on downs in its next series and again the Thorobreds drove right down the field.

Rife, Sinckler and Newby carried the ball gaining big chunks of yardage with the Harrison County line dominating the action in the trenches.

Walker then faked to Sinckler and kept the ball running untouched into the end zone for the third score.

Harrison County appeared to score the extra point but a late flag for an illegal formation erased the points and the Breds failed in their second try to leave the score at 20-7.

The junior varsity Thorobreds and the Pendleton County varsity, with some junior varsity mixed in, played the fourth period with each team having 10 offensive plays.

Harrison County again gained good yardage and, if not for a dropped pass, would have scored their fourth touchdown of the night. The junior varsity defense allowed

Fillies begin Gaunce era with 5-1 win over Mason County

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

The Coach Kevin Gaunce era began last night in Maysville with the Harrison County Fillies making quick work of the Lady Royals with a 5-1 victory.

Junior Amelia Bolin waited about five minutes before she broke clear of the defense and got into position for a point blank shot.

The ball bounced off the corner post, but freshman Kelby Gaunce was there to score her first varsity goal for the 1-nil lead.

Shortly after this goal, Bolin scored her first goal of the season on a perfect throw from senior Hannah Thomas.

The game became a little physical midway through the opening half, which allowed the Lady Royals to force some Fillies defensive errors.

The Royals scored to make the score 2-1 only to have Gaunce score her second career goal to make the score 3-1 at the half.

Junior Kayla Ford took over from her stopper position in the early part of the second half as Harrison County reestablished its domination of the match.

Senior Morgan Puckett stepped up in the second half scoring the fourth goal and getting an assist on the fifth and final tally.

Freshman Laura Beth Ledford took a well placed corner kick from Puckett and buried the ball deep into the net for her first varsity goal.

While her teammates were keeping the Lady Royal defense occupied, goal keeper Chelsea Ingram held the Mason County offense in check for the 5-1 victory.

"We had a great team effort by everyone," said the first-year coach after the match. "We still have improvement to make, but today was a great start for the season."

The Harrison County junior varsity played the Mason County junior varsity to a tie at 1-1.

Fillies volleyball slips past Lady Cats in season opening match

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

After the freshman squad and the junior varsity lost two games to none, the Harrison County Volleyball Fillies took the varsity match 3-1 over the Pendleton County Lady Cats.

The match played in Falmouth was a very spirited affair with a good contingent of students and parents on hand to cheer on the home team.

Still the Fillies were able to prevail 25-20, 22-25, 25-22, 25-23 to open the season in a positive manner.

"Both teams had really good ball handling and passing," observed Fillies Coach Bill Faulkner. "It was a very tough and competitive contest."

Senior Amber Darnell led the Fillies offense with eight kills.

Setter Emma Gooden, an eighth grader, had more than 30 assists in the match. Junior Casey Wallace served eight aces and was on the floor on defense with several digs.

"We have some work to do in our attack with hitting and back row play, but overall it was a good effort for a first match," concluded Faulkner.

The Fillies host Nicholas County on Thursday with the freshman game beginning at 5:30 p.m. followed by the junior varsity and varsity matches.

The Glacier Invitational is Saturday in Brooksville with eight teams in the fray.

Mike's Minute

Personal responsibility and the need for it was never more apparent than a few weeks ago in Canandaigua, New York, when NASCAR star driver Tony Stewart hit and killed Kevin Ward Jr. during a sprint car race on a dirt track. What led up to the accident and the accident itself has been widely talked about. There has been wild speculation sometimes out weighing the facts from the tragic accident.

What is almost certain is that Stewart's car hit the back of Ward's sending it into the barrier knocking the youthful driver out of the race.

Most eye witness and filmed accounts point to this as a fact.

What happened next is also a fact as Ward got out of his car and walked out onto the track,

Mike Aldridge
Sports Writer

yell something in Stewart's direction.

After one driver narrowly missed Ward, Stewart could not avoid striking him and killed the young driver right there on the track.

This is where the controversy begins with some calling for Stewart's arrest on a charge of manslaughter and even some wanting him to be charged with murder saying Stewart's temper caused him to hit Ward intentionally.

Some have said that the veteran star drove close to Ward to throw apparently to confront Stewart as he drove around the track again.

Whatever his reason, and only Ward knows for sure what that was, he stood on a dark track in black clothing to make some gesture or dirt on him only to have the car slide into him and kill him.

Stewart denies this. Most racing fans believe him including me.

While Stewart's temper is legendary, I would not ever believe that he would intentionally drive close enough to a pedestrian to endanger their well being.

It is very difficult to do, but sometimes the person who lost the most, in this case his life, was the person to blame.

The habit that drivers have gotten into of getting out of their cars and making gestures or throwing helmets at opposing drivers' cars while they are still going 200 mph is not very smart.

NASCAR, just last week, made a rule against drivers leaving the car for such shenanigans.

If Kevin Ward Jr.'s temper got away from him and he lost his life because of it, that is really too bad. But blaming Tony Stewart is not going to bring him back or alter the circumstances.

Mercer County wins final scrimmage over Thorobreds

By MIKE ALDRIDGE, SPORTS WRITER

The last scrimmage of the pre-season was held on LeBus Field last Friday with the Breds going down to defeat to the Mercer County Titans, 6-2.

The match was a tale of two halves as Harrison County jumped out to an early lead with good passing and offensive runs.

The Thorobreds scored about 20 minutes into the match on a goal by Jesse Klapheke as he volleyed a rebound off the goal post into the net for a 1-nil advantage.

The offense continued to push the issue as they scored again five minutes later on a goal by Logan Wiley.

Gus Garrison won the ball at mid-field and made a perfect pass to Wiley for the goal.

The half ended with Harrison County sporting the 2-nil advantage.

The second half saw the Thorobreds begin to play individual soccer instead of a team concept. This led to the Thorobreds playing about 80 percent of the half on defense. Mercer County took advantage of the tiring defense. Before the dust had settled, the Titans had scored six times for the final 6-2 score.

"Although this was just a scrimmage, I hate to start the season this way," lamented Harrison County Coach Nick Hill. "But it will be worth it if the players realize that they have to play hard 80 minutes and not 55."

The Thorobreds begin the regular season Tuesday night as they travel to Campbell County.

Harrison County will then head to Bourbon County on Thursday before opening the home season the following Tuesday against George Rogers Clark.

Thorobreds

some Wildcat advances but in the end shut down the home squad.

The Harrison County team will open the regular season Friday night in Flemingsburg with the Fleming County Panthers.

The 7:30 p.m. game will be the opener for both teams.

Last year, the Breds handled the Panthers 35-7 in the season opener.

The Panthers are much improved, according to Thorobreds mentor Jim Carr.

"They have been hitting the weights like we have and seem better at each position," noted Carr. "We will have to come ready to play both halves to come out on top."

Fleming County defeated Nicholas County, 35-0, in a scrimmage last Friday in its only preseason action.

DID YOU KNOW?

Three out of four children experience an ear infection before they are three years old

Ear infections are the most common illness in babies and young children. And they can be painful. In some cases fluid and mucus stay trapped in the ear after the infection is over which can also affect your child's hearing.

Here are a few signs to look for:

- Does she tug or pull at her ears?
- Does he cry more than usual?
- Do you see fluid draining out of her ears?
- Does he have trouble sleeping?
- Can she keep her balance?
- Does he have trouble hearing?
- Does she seem not to respond to quiet sounds?

An ear infection can cause temporary hearing problems. Temporary speech and language problems can happen too. If left untreated these problems can become more serious.

A child with an ear infection may show you any of these signs. If you see any of them, call us at:

HCMS Colts lose opener to Campbell Junior High

By Mike Aldridge, Sports Writer

The Harrison County Middle School Colts traveled to Winchester Thursday for a football doubleheader with the newly formed Campbell Junior High School.

Clark Middle and Conkright Middle have combined to make one very large junior high school in Winchester.

The seventh grade team lost, 38-0, after getting down at the half by 30-0.

Campbell was using its superior size and speed to take advantage of the young Colts early in the game.

They used plays such as inside kicks to catch the inexperienced Harrison County team off guard.

The Colts played much better in the second half allowing only one score while using the adjustments made at the half.

Cameron Covington and Tennessee Turner played well and led the team in both offense and defense.

The eighth grade Colts played an outstanding opening game as they battled the Campbell team in a defensive struggle.

The game was scoreless at the half and only a Harrison County turnover allowed the home team to score midway through the second half.

The last score, which made the final tally 12-0 in favor of Campbell, came very late in the game.

“Chase Blanton, Cody Howard and Stevie Oaks were the defensive standouts tonight,” noted Coach Chris Kerns. “This was an overall a great team effort that was only spoiled by our late miscues.”

The Colts take to the road again Thursday when they travel to Royal Springs Middle School for a 6 p.m. kickoff.

Fillies end 16 strokes better than Bourbon County

The Harrison County Fillies only had three players available for Monday’s match with the Bourbon County Lady Colonels, but that was enough. The girls rolled to a 160-to-176 win at the Cynthiana Country Club.

Sarah Holland led the way with a nine-hole total of 46 with Sarah Durbin following with 52 and Morgan Nelly with 62. The rain-soaked course did not allow for much roll on drives, which elevated the scores on the drizzling afternoon.

The Fillies will next play on Saturday in Richmond at the Battlefield Course in the Madison Central Tournament.

Youth football forms available

Anyone wishing to pick up sign-up sheets for youth football may do so at two locations in Cynthiana. Joe Cochran’s State Farm Insurance Office and Licking Valley Dentistry will have the forms available during their regular business hours. The forms will be available in the elementary school offices.

This year, the youth football program will consist of three teams per school with K and first playing flag football. Second and third grades will make up a league and fourth and fifth grades making another. The teams will represent Eastside, Northside, Southside and Westside schools. Students from St. Edward’s Catholic School or home schooled children will be placed on one of the four teams.

Youth football and cheerleading sign-ups to begin

The Harrison County youth football and cheerleading sign-ups will begin Aug. 21 at the concession stand at Ingles Stadium. The sign-ups will be held Monday through Thursday from 5-6 p.m., rain or shine.

Football will be Flag (Lower and Upper). Cheerleading is for Pre-K through sixth grade.

Miller inducted into National Wrestling Hall of Fame

Randy Miller, husband of Kim Wagoner Miller, formerly of Cynthiana, was inducted into the 2014 National Wrestling Hall of Fame Inductee, Florida Chapter.

Miller coached at Woodford County High School and won a state championship while there and the other schools listed are all in the South Florida area.

Miller was a transplant from the State of Michigan, where he was State Champion, State Runner-up, a High School All-American and competed for the US National team from 1970-76 before moving on to coach in Kentucky and Florida.

He won state championships at both Woodford County (1976) and St. Thomas Aquinas (1985), and is a member of the Broward County Wrestling and St. Thomas Aquinas Hall of Fame. He has 13 individual state champions, 10 state finalists and 30 individual place winners.

Miller retired from coaching in 2011.

Volleyball

“Every team in this could win it including us,” said Faulkner. “It is very evenly balanced.”

The Harrison County pool contains Grant County, Lewis County and Augusta, while the other pool has Calvary Christian, Pendleton County, Robertson County and the host Bracken County.

Grant County and Bracken County have a decided size advantage but it is anyone’s tournament to win.

The Fillies prepared for the season last week with a scrimmage in Bourbon County. The varsity won 25-16 and 25-12. The freshman team won 2-0, but the junior varsity lost 0-2.

Fillies

From FILLIES page 10

Reagan Gorman scored a goal with two minutes left in the match for the tie.

Last Saturday, the Fillies participated in their final scrimmage getting off to a slow start and losing to Western Hills 3-1.

The Frankfort Panorama was hosted by Frankfort High School with schools coming to play the Franklin County schools.

The Fillies learned that they need to be focused from the start and play a more physical style of play in this scrimmage.

According to Gaunce, Kassidy Cook, who is a first-year player as a senior, set the tone with a gritty, competitive performance.

The Fillies did have a goal called back by an off sides call.

Playoff determines Cynthiana Country Club Bank Trust Tournament winner

By MIKE ALDRIDGE, Sports Writer

The Cynthiana Country Club Member/Member Tournament sponsored by Bank Trust went to a playoff before the team of Jim Fuller and Gary Philpott were able to grab the championship.

In an unusual development, Philpott was unable to return for the playoff and Fuller took on the duo of Gary Varner and Bob Whitaker for the title.

All involved shot par on the first hole before Fuller birdied the second to win the match.

Whitaker just missed his birdie putt by a fraction of an inch before Fuller drained the eight-foot downhill shot for the win.

Varner and Whitaker were second in the tournament and first in the Calcutta with Fuller and Philpott second. The Bank Trust event was a 36-hole tournament held on Saturday and Sunday with 62 competitors vying for the championship.

Joe Henson won the first annual John Harrison Memorial Putting competition, which was held on Friday night.

This event, which is named for the late John Harrison who was a long-time Cynthiana Country Club member, was set up by club pro Hank Whalen on the practice putting green at the club.

Ken's NewMarket earns national award

During Supervalu's first-ever national sales show, Sales 4 All Seasons, Supervalu announced that Ken's NewMarket was one of 10 winners of its 2014 Master Marketer Competition. The recognition was made during an awards ceremony held Wednesday, Aug. 13, at the River Centre in St. Paul, Minn.

The competition recognizes and celebrates the top marketing and merchandising campaigns from the company's 1,800-plus independent retailer customers, in categories ranging from public service to television to social media.

This year, the competition included over 450 entries from grocery retailers throughout the nation, with 20 winners selected across 10 marketing categories. Ken's NewMarkets, located in Cynthiana, Paris and Flemingsburg, was one of those 10 winners receiving an award for their 34th Anniversary in business event.

"We could not be happier about this award," said Joel Techau, president of Ken's NewMarkets. "Only because of the support of the people in our communities have we been able to celebrate our 34th anniversary and we are thankful for that support every day."

Morrison was waiting for her. Morrison allegedly scratched Race's face. Race said the fight was over money and that she owed Morrison $1,000.

July 27 -- At 7:22 p.m., police were called to Walmart where Violet Williams reported that her purse was stolen from her shopping cart while she was shopping. Later in the evening, police were advised that Mrs. Williams' credit card had been used three times, twice at Walmart and at Marathon, all in Cynthiana. Police were able to view security video and identify the alleged thief. Mrs. Williams also advised police that her new glasses were also inside the purse. Charges to her credit card amounted to $290.53 and the value of the glasses was $647.

July 29 -- At 12:19 a.m., police were called to Shell Apple Market at 103 East Pleasant St. where a shoplifting incident was reported.

July 29 -- At 11:07 a.m., Margaret Wood, 208 Fifth St., reported that someone took her cell phone valued at $499.

July 29 -- At 5:57 p.m., Vanessa Duff, 41 Swinford Alley, reported that someone entered her residence and took a Nintendo Wii and 10 games, valued at $300; a 5-gallon jug containing about $20 in coins; two cell phones, $328.

July 30 -- At 8:26 a.m., a report was made of a missing juvenile. The child returned home before her name could be entered into the database.

July 30 -- At 2:54 p.m., Seth Smith of Walmart security reported that Cynthia Harney was seen concealing items in her purse and that she passed all points of sale. She was stopped and admitted to having a $30 HDTV antenna in her purse. She was arrested and charged with theft by unlawful taking under $500, shoplifting.

July 31 -- At 10:48 a.m., Seth Smith of Walmart security reported that Paula McFarland had been inside the store and that she had previously been told not to be back on Walmart property.

Aug. 1 -- At 11:32 a.m., police were called to 37 Swinford Alley in reference to three women arguing about custody of one of the women's child.

Aug. 2 -- At 12:07 p.m., police were called to 405 Main Street where two individuals were arguing over a lease agreement for an apartment. Shawnda Sosbe reportedly rented an apartment from Billy Asbury. However, she said that before she moved her things into the apartment she found two bugs inside. She said she wanted her money back and that her lawyer told her she had three days in which to back out of a lease agreement. Asbury gave her back her rent, but kept her security deposit and one day's rent.

Aug. 2 -- At 3:51 p.m., Kelli J. Kinney, 209 N. Miller St., reported that a television had been taken from her residence.

Aug. 2 -- At 8:58 p.m., police were called to Second Street for an out-of-control juvenile.

Aug. 3 -- At 7:11 p.m., Candace Beagle, 447 E. Pike St., reported that a burglary had occurred at her residence and that two Polaroid tablets were missing.

Aug. 4 -- At 7:56 p.m., police were called to the Loco Ice hut on Church Street where Chris Morris reportedly had $200 taken from his wallet. He told police he handed his wallet to Chelsea Durbin to pay for shaved ice. Durbin told police she laid the wallet on the counter of the Loco ice and when she went back the money was gone from inside the wallet. The worker told police that Durbin paid for the purchase with a $10 bill and that she never had a wallet that she could see.

Harrison County Fiscal Court

Independent Auditor's Report

Statement
The accompanying statement of revenues, expenditures, and excess fees - regulatory basis of the County Clerk of the year ended December 31, 2013, and the related notes to the financial statement.

Opinion for the Financial Statement
The preparation and fair presentation of this financial statement in accordance with accounting practices and standards of the Commonwealth of Kentucky to demonstrate compliance with the Commonwealth of Kentucky's regulatory basis of accounting is the responsibility of the County Clerk. Management is also responsible for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control over financial reporting and fair presentation of a financial statement that is free from material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud.

Our Opinion
In our opinion on this financial statement based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, the standards applicable to financial audits contained in the Uniform System of Accounts for the States issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, and the Audit Guide for County Fee Officials issued by the Auditor of Public Accounts, Commonwealth of Kentucky. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statement is free from material misstatement.

Our Procedures
We performed procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statement. The procedures included the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statement, whether due to error or fraud. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the fair presentation of the financial statement in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. The purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we also include evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of the estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statement. We have obtained sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinions.

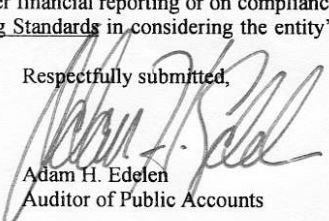

U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles
The financial statement, the financial statement is prepared by the County Clerk on the basis of the accounting principles permitted by the laws of Kentucky to demonstrate compliance with the Commonwealth of Kentucky's regulatory basis of accounting, which is a basis of accounting other than accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Materiality
The variances between the regulatory basis of accounting described in Note 1 and accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, although not reasonably determinable, are presumed to be material.

U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles
The financial statement referred to above does not present fairly, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, the financial position of each fund of the County Clerk, as of December 31, 2013, and the cash flows thereof for the year then ended.

Our Opinion
In our opinion, the financial statement referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, the revenues, expenditures, and excess fees of the County Clerk for the year ended December 31, 2013, in accordance with the basis of accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the laws of Kentucky as described in Note 1.

Government Auditing Standards
In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated June 20, 2014 on our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, and other matters. The purpose of that report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the internal control or compliance. That report is an integral part of this audit and is included in the report of the Auditor of Public Accounts in considering the entity's internal control over financial reporting.

Respectfully submitted,

Adam H. Edelen
Auditor of Public Accounts

Public Accounts to annually audit fiscal courts, county clerks, and sheriffs; and print the results in a report for the county. ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

Sealed Proposals for the following work will be received by the Harrison County Board of Education in the manner and on the date hereinafter specified for the furnishing of all labor, materials, supplies, tools, equipment, services, etc., necessary for the construction of:

Harrison County Schools Security Upgrades, Bid Package #1
Harrison County Schools Door Upgrades, Bid Package #2

Contractors must submit their bids to the Harrison County Board of Education at 308 Webster Avenue, Cynthiana, Kentucky 41031 until September 11, 2014, 2:00 p.m. local time. Bid Security in the amount of five (5) percent must accompany each Proposal. The successful bidder will be required to provide a 100% Performance and Payment Bond as indicated in the Project Manual.

A pre-bid conference for both projects will be held on August 28, 2014 at 3:30 p.m. local time, at the Board Office.

Contract Documents may be examined at the Board of Education and RossTarrant Architects, Inc., 101 Old Lafayette Avenue, Lexington, Kentucky 40502. A full list of plan rooms that have construction documents on file is available at www.lynnimaging.com.

Bidders may obtain contract documents from Lynn Imaging, Inc., 328 Old East Vine Street, Lexington, Kentucky 40507 (telephone (859) 255-1021). A refundable deposit of $50 per project will be required for plan sets, plus non-refundable shipping charges. All deposit checks shall be made payable to RossTarrant Architects, Inc. Postage and handling fees shall be paid separately to Lynn Imaging, Inc.

State Wage Rates are not applicable. Conflicts of interest, gratuities and kickbacks are defined in KRS 45A.445 and as provided for in KRS 45A.455 are absolutely prohibited. Preference for resident bidders shall be given as outlined in KRS 45A.90 to 45A.94

Child Find for Children with Disabilities in Need of Special Education or 504 Services

Child Find
The Harrison County School District keeps educational records in a secure location in each school and Board office.

The Harrison County School District obtains written consent from a parent or eligible student (age 18 or who is attending a postsecondary institution), before disclosing personally identifiable information to an entity or individual not authorized to receive it under FERPA.

For students who have been determined eligible for Special Education, educational records will be destroyed at the request of the parents when they are no longer needed to provide educational programs or services. The Harrison County School District may destroy the educational records of a child without parent request three years after they are no longer needed to provide educational programs or services. Parents are advised that data contained in the records may later be needed for Social Security benefits or other purposes. The Harrison County School District may retain, for an indefinite period of time, a record of the student's name, address, telephone number, grades, attendance records, classes attended, grade level completed, and year completed.

Children eligible for Special Education include those children with disabilities who have autism, deaf-blindness, developmental delay, emotional-behavior disability, hearing impairment, mental disability, multiple disabilities, orthopedic impairment, other health impairment, specific learning disability, speech or language impairment, traumatic brain injury, or visual impairment and who because of such an impairment need Special Education services.

Children eligible for 504 services include those children who have a current physical or mental impairment that currently substantially limits some major life activity which causes the student's ability to access the school environment or school activities to be substantially limited.

The Harrison County School District has an ongoing "Child Find" system, which is designed to locate, identify and evaluate any child residing in a home, facility, or residence within its geographical boundaries, age three (3) to twenty-one (21) years, who may have a disability and be in need of Special Education or 504 services. This includes children who are not in school; those who are in public, private, or home school; those who are highly mobile such as children who are migrant or homeless; and those who are advancing from grade to grade, who may need but are not receiving Special Education or 504 services.

The district's "Child Find" system includes children with disabilities attending private or home schools within the school district boundaries who may need special education services.

The Harrison County School District will make sure any child enrolled in its district who qualifies for Special Education or 504 services, regardless of how severe the disability, is provided appropriate Special Education or 504 services at no cost to the parents of the child.

Parents, relatives, public and private agency employees, and concerned citizens are urged to help the Harrison County School District find any child who may have a disability and need Special Education or 504 services. The District needs to know the name and age, or date of birth of the child; the name, address, and phone number(s) of the parents or guardian; the possible disability; and other information to determine if Special Education or 504 services are needed.

Letters and phone calls are some of the ways the Harrison County School District collects the information needed. The information the school District collects will be used to contact the parents of the child and find out if the child needs to be evaluated or referred for Special Education or 504 services.

If you know of a child who lives within the boundaries of the Harrison County School District, who may have a disability, and may need but is not receiving Special Education services, please call 234-7110 or send the information to:

Brad Yearsley
Director of Special Education /
Section 504 Coordinator
Harrison County Schools
308 Webster Ave.
Cynthiana, KY 41031

If you know of a child who attends a private or home school within the boundaries of the Harrison County School District, who may have a disability, and may need but is not receiving Special Education services, please call 234-7110 or send the information to:

Brad Yearsley
Director of Special Education
Harrison County Schools
308 Webster Ave.
Cynthiana, KY 41031

"Child Find" activities will continue throughout the school year. As part of these efforts the Harrison County School District will use screening information, student records, and basic assessment information it collects on all children in the District to help locate those children who have a disability and need Special Education or 504 services. Any information the District collects through "Child Find" is maintained confidentially.

Written Policies and Procedures have been developed which describe the District's requirements regarding the confidentiality of personally identifiable information and "Child Find" activities. There are copies in the Principal's office of each school, and in the Board of Education office. Copies of these Policies and Procedures may be obtained by contacting:

Robert Switzer
Director of Pupil Personnel
Harrison County Schools
324 Webster Ave.
234-7110

The District office is open Monday through Friday, from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

The Harrison County School District provides a public notice in the native language or other mode of communication of the various populations in the geographical boundaries of the District to the extent feasible. If you know of someone who may need this notice translated to another language, given orally, or delivered in some other manner or mode of communication, please contact the Director of Pupil Personnel, the Director of Special Education or the Section 504 Coordinator at the address or phone number listed above for the Harrison County Schools.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

1. INVITATION
Sealed proposals for the following work will be received by the City of Cynthiana City Clerk until 2:00 p.m., local time, September 15, 2014 for furnishing all labor and/or materials and performing all work as set forth by this advertisement, conditions (general and special), specifications, and/or the drawings prepared by and for the City of Cynthiana. Immediately following the scheduled closing time for reception of bids, all proposals which have been submitted in accordance with the above will be publicly opened and read aloud.

2. DESCRIPTION OF WORK
Consisting of the construction and/or furnishing of various items as listed in the Bid Schedule beginning on page P-7 of this document, plus incidentals necessary to complete the work.

4. METHOD OF RECEIVING BIDS
Bids will be received from Prime Contracting firms on a Unit Price Basis, for total Project Area. Bids shall be submitted in the manner and subject to the conditions as set forth and described in the Instruction to Bidders and Special Conditions.

5. METHOD OF AWARD
The Contract will be awarded to the lowest, qualified responsible bidder for the total Project area, according to the alternative(s) selected by the OWNER.

6. BID WITHDRAWAL
No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of sixty (60) calendar days after the closing date for receipt of bids. Errors and omissions will not be cause for withdrawal of bid without forfeit of bid bond. Bids may be withdrawn in person prior to the closing date of receipt of bids.

BID SECURITY

All bids shall be accompanied by a bid bond of no less than five percent (5%) of the amount of the bid executed by a Surety Company authorized to do business in the Commonwealth of Kentucky and countersigned by a licensed Kentucky Resident Agent, representing the Surety Company. Check or bond shall be payable to the City of Cynthiana City Clerk.

8. SUBMISSION OF BIDS
CONTRACTORS shall submit their bids to the City of Cynthiana, Attn. Ms. Charleen McIlvain, 104 E. Pleasant Street, P.O. Box 67, Cynthiana, Kentucky 41031. Bids shall be submitted in a sealed envelope not later than 2:00 p.m. Local Time September 15, 2014. Sealed proposals shall be marked clearly on the outside of the container "Sealed Proposal for: "Cynthiana Safe Routes to School Sidewalk Project" to be opened at 2:00 p.m. Local Time September 15, 2014. Bids received after the scheduled closing time for receipt of bids will not be considered and will be returned unopened.

9. RIGHT TO REJECT
The City of Cynthiana reserves the right to reject any and all bids and to waive all informalities and/or technicalities where the best interest of the City of Cynthiana may be served.

10. NOTIFICATION TO THE CITY OF CYNTHIANA FOR AFFIRMATIVE ACTION PLAN AND CURRENT WORKFORCE
The successful bidder must submit, prior to award of the bid the following items to the City of Cynthiana.

1. Affirmative Action Plan for his/her firm.

2. Current Workforce Analysis Form.

Failure to submit these items as required herein may result in disqualification of the Bidder from the award of the contract.

All submissions should be directed to:

City of Cynthiana
Attn. Charleen McIlvain

Farm Bill allows early termination for certain CRP contracts

USDA Kentucky Farm Service Agency (FSA) Executive Director, John W. McCauley, reminds producers that as of Aug. 6, producers with acres under contract through the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) can apply for early contract termination, as required by the 2014 Farm Bill. The deadline to request early CRP contract termination is Jan. 30, 2015.

The effective date for early termination is no earlier than Oct. 1, 2014. The CRP contract must been in effect for at least five years and other conditions must be met. The 2014 Farm Bill identifies 10 exceptions whereby land will not be eligible for the early-out provisions. For a complete list of these exceptions, view the program fact sheet online at www.fsa.usda.gov/Internet/FSA_File/crp_opt_out_fact_sht.pdf.

“Once a CRP contract termination request is approved by the FSA County Committee, the decision cannot be reversed and the contract cannot be reinstated,” said McCauley. “Likewise, producers must meet conservation compliance provisions for all land that will be returned to production.”

For more information on or to determine eligibility for early termination of existing CRP contracts, contact the FSA office at 103 Rodgers Park Drive, 234-2646. For local FSA Service Center contact information visit <http://offices.sc.egov.usda.gov/locator/app>.

Blue Mold found in Kentucky

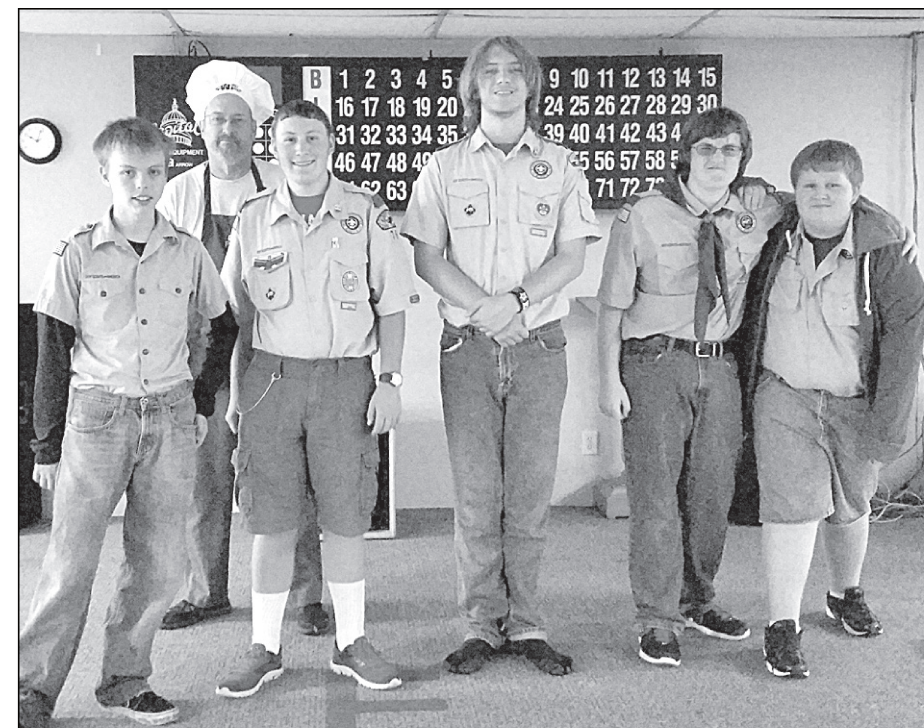

By GARY CARTER, COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT FOR AGRICULTURE

Bob Pierce, Tobacco Specialist with the University of Kentucky has reported that Blue Mold has been found in Lewis, Mason, Jackson and Clay Counties in Eastern Kentucky.

Anyone with tobacco set in mid-June should be watching very closely with our current weather conditions. We would encourage anyone who is approaching topping time go ahead and top the tobacco and spray it with MH-30. This should reduce the chances of Blue Mold once the growth patterns have slowed on the tobacco.

If you suspect you have a problem please call the Harrison County Extension Office at 234-5510.

TROOP 76. Scouts in Troop 76 held a pancake breakfast fundraiser this past weekend at the Cynthiana Elks Lodge who provided the food. Pictured are: front row, from left, Drew Dorsey, Henry DeRolf, Timmy Lail, Andrew Franklin, Benjamin Merriman; second row, Scoutmaster Tim Lail. Absent from photo were Brandon Turnberg, Evan Copes and Gregory Dick.

Homemakers

From HOMEMAKERS page 8

Ewalt members live in Bourbon, Scott, Harrison and Fayette counties. Harrison County members are Mildred Cameron, B.T. Darnell, Debbie Scott and Janet Lake.

The Smith-Lever Act in 1914 established the Federal Cooperative Extension Service, and the University of Kentucky's Family and Consumer Science Extension was established the same year, both now celebrating a centennial. Ewalt Club is celebrating 75 years.

Club guests on Sept. 3 will include Dr. Ann Vail, Dean of the College of Family Consumer Science, University of Kentucky; Susan Hansford of Somerset, Kentucky State Homemakers President; State Rep. Sannie Overly, whose grandmother was an early and long-time member; Betty Overly, former Home Agent; Liz Kingsland, the present Home Agent and Verndaleen Lyons, and Kay Denniston of the extension office.
